Re: Inquiry into the Marriage Equality Amendment Bill 2009

I am writing just a short note to let you know that changing the current Marriage Act is wrong. Marriage is supposed to be between a Male and a Female. If two people of the same gender want to live together, then that's their choice. I have friends who are homosexuals, but I want to object to them being allowed to be married. This country was built on Christian morals and values and an amendment to the Marriage Act on this issue cuts away a large portion of these important values and will lead to other less than desirable outcomes. Society is unfortunately becoming more and more tainted with their morals (you only need to turn on the news to see this). Let's take a stand for what's right and not let minority groups push us around on important issues just so they can feel good.

As I mentioned before, if two people of the same gender want to live together, then that choice is up to them, but that doesn't mean they can change Adam and Eve to Adam and Steve.

Praying that all of you take courage to do what's right. Australia is counting on you.

Kindest regards,
