

Marriage Equality Submission from E R Campbell

As a Pre-Service Teacher, I notice that children look for both genders as role models. They notice adults acting and reacting in different ways to different situations. To restrict a young child to one viewpoint will lead them to an unbalanced view of how to interact with others outside the home. Providing both a man and a woman as adult role models gives the young child all of life's potentialities and actualities.

I thoroughly and whole-heartedly oppose the removal of the terms, 'one man and one woman' and the, 'grant[ing of] same-sex couples equal marriage rights and recognise unions entered into abroad'.

E R Campbell
25 August 2009