

I believe that the definition of marriage must remain as a union entered between one man and one woman for the term of their natural lives. Marriage should not be changed to accommodate same sex couples wanting to 'marry', nor should 'marriages' performed overseas for same sex couples be recognised in Australia.