

I sincerely hope that the Marriage Bill stays as it is now, that marriage is between a man and a women. This is foundational to our culture. My hope is that if the homosexual community want to call their union by a name, that they choose their own name, something other than "marriage".