

I oppose the Marriage Equality Amendment Bill 2009.

Opposite-gender marriage is best for the health and welfare of both sexes, for children who need both a mother and a father and also for society. A second (or multiple) father/s cannot replace a mother and vice versa.

I support marriage as a union between one man and one woman only as is the norm in societies world-wide.

This applies to Australian recognition of marriages both in Australia and from overseas.
