

Having read the proposed amendment to the Marriage Act, I feel it is an unnecessary amendment and should be rejected.

I am eager to look at ways for those in same-sex relationships to be treated fairly and equitably in our community. I don't think however, that changing our community's definition of marriage is the way to do this.