

It is stated in the Scriptures that God created man formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul, Genesis 2:7.

It is also stated in the Scriptures that God caused Adam to fall into a deep sleep whilst He removed one of Adam's ribs with which to fashion a woman, Genesis 2:21-23.

Using a rib enforces the concept that a man and a woman shall stand side by side, not two men side by side, or two women side by side. Thus, some six thousand years ago on Biblical dating, God found the thought of two men or two women living together in a relationship OFFENSIVE.

The anatomy of a man is designed for heavy work; the anatomy of a woman is designed for the home environment, and the bearing of children.

Thus God not only designed two distinct people, He also designed them for two distinct aspects of employment.

Man was to leave the family home, and establish a union with a woman who would then become HIS WIFE. Living together they would become as one flesh, and neither were ashamed of their union together, Genesis 2:24-25.

Would someone please tell me - how, without another man's help (interference) - two males in a 'marriage partnership', or two females in a 'marriage partnership', can claim that they make a 'perfect union, which would allow them to bring children into this world?

The next instance of male and female pairing comes where God Commanded Noah to gather the animals - male and female - to board the Ark, a place of sanctuary.

If two males, or two females would have been able to fulfil the replenishing of the earth after THE Flood, why did God deem it necessary to stipulate that the animals entering the Ark had to be one of each gender?

Many years after the Flood, God, through Moses, gave a manifesto of Commandments, that man would be able KNOW what God disliked, among which we find the following,

"You shall not lie with a male as with a woman. It is an abomination", Leviticus 18:22.

"If a man lies with a male as he lies with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination. They shall surely be put to death. Their blood shall be upon them", Leviticus 20:13.

"A woman shall not wear anything that pertains to a man, nor shall a man put on a woman's garment, for all who do so are an abomination to the LORD your God", Deuteronomy 22:5.

Two thousand years later, the situation had become so bad, that God again reiterated His terms, AFTER having warned man that the closer he got towards the end of time, the situation would be like that when Noah was told to build the Ark.

"For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature (lesbians):

And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly (homosexuality)...",

"...they which commit such things are worthy of death...(and) those who receive pleasure in them that do them (aiding and abetting - the law makers who pass these laws)", Romans 1:26-27, 32

What is it that is so important about the Flood, the Ark, and the animals - male and female entering it that Jesus should use it as a warning of what was still to come?

"But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be", Matthew 24:37-39.

Some years ago I was sent the following by an unknown author. I quote it now and ask the question, "Do we have six months of God's tolerance left, if we, mankind, keep trying to change the rules that God has had in place for at least the last two thousand years?"

Build Another Ark, or (Let's Make Another Set of Rules).

In the year 2005, the Lord came unto Noah, who was now living in Australia, and said, "Once again, the earth has become wicked and overpopulated and I see the end of all flesh before me. Build another Ark and save two of every living thing along with a few good humans."

He gave Noah the blueprints, saying, "You have six months to build the Ark before I will start the unending rain for 40 days and 40 nights".

Six months later, the Lord looked down and saw Noah weeping in his yard...but no ark.

"Noah", He roared, "I'm about to start the rain! Where is the Ark?"

"Forgive me, Lord," begged Noah. "But things have changed. I needed a building permit". "I've been arguing with the inspector about the need for a sprinkler system".

"My neighbours claim that I've violated the neighbourhood zoning laws by building the Ark in my yard and exceeding the height limitations. We had to go to Arbitration for a decision".

"Then the electricity companies demanded a bond be posted for the future costs of moving power lines and other overhead obstructions, to clear the passage for the Ark's move to the sea. I argued that the sea would be coming to us, but they would hear nothing of it".

"Getting the wood was another problem. There's a ban on cutting local trees in order to save the spotted owl. I tried to convince the environmentalists that I needed the Wood to save the owls. But no go!"

"When I started gathering the animals, I got sued by an animal rights group. They insisted that I was confining wild animals against their will. As well, they argued the accommodation was too restrictive and it was cruel and inhumane to put so many animals in a confined space".

"Then the EPA ruled that I couldn't build the Ark until they'd conducted an environmental impact study on your proposed flood".

“I'm still trying to resolve a complaint with the Human Rights Commission on how many minorities I'm supposed to hire for my building crew. Also, the trades unions say I can't use my sons. They insist have to hire only Union workers with Ark building experience”.

“To make matters worse, the Tax Office seized all my assets, claiming I'm trying to leave the country illegally with endangered species. So, forgive me, Lord, but it would take at least ten years for me to finish this Ark.”

Suddenly the skies cleared, the sun began to shine, and a rainbow stretched across the sky. Noah looked up in wonder and asked, "You mean, you're not going to destroy the world?"

"No", said the Lord. "The government beat me to it."

Time is running out. What God said is what God means, it is not a case of “God said it, I believe it, that's it”, It is a case of God said, and that is it.

These are the Days of Noah – the end of the world is coming - and rather more rapidly than most people would like to consider!

Today
people are eating and feasting, whilst the less fortunate are starving, life has become cheap, children abandoned, people murdered, people hide behind ‘their’ cloak of respectability, whilst small girls through to old ladies are molested/raped.

God has stopped the power to the clock of time, and now it is running out of time.

Consider ‘The Roman Decadence’.

The favourite example of this is ancient Rome, an empire allegedly ruined by an emperor named Nero, did not actually succumb for some hundred years or so.

Therefore, decadence as used here, and coming from the Medieval Latin ‘decadentia’ - is a process of a falling away through a decline of morals, and does not infer sexual depravity. It is a sign of moral weakness, which in turn will bring about a decrease in the established integrity by the perceived elevation of an ‘ideal’.

The proposed bill, ‘Inquiry into the Marriage Equality Amendment Bill 2009’ can easily be related to a form of Roman decadence, for it ushered in the inevitable - but gradual - decline in the ancient Roman values of the family.

Now this pitiful suggestion, and politicians jump up and down, for what? To get votes at the next election? To be known as the one who bastardised God's Laws? Or, perhaps even as the one we could rely upon to pass a law that would further immorality?

To those who read this response to your invitation to make a submission, I thank you, but I do make one further request, YOU ACT ON GOD'S LAWS, not listen to minority groups who, whilst God is not physically in front of their face, would probably not be slow at telling Him to “Butt out”.

John the Baptist was very much a ‘minority group’, yet thousands came to hear his message. Many who came heeded his message, but the law makers of the day were totally against both John and the message, for the message was of God.

While many people in authority are saying “Peace, peace”, yet their actions are of those who are only ever bringing God’s judgment day closer.

Paul, writing to the Thessalonian Church, I Thessalonians 5.3, stated ““For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape”.

Using the term ‘birth pangs’ are used as a sign of the end times. Another term so frequently used, but rarely applied to self “What you sow, that you reap”.

John (the Apostle), in his book, ‘The Book of Revelation’ describing the calamities that were afflicting mankind, for man had made many of the ordinances, thereby they were ‘ACCEPTABLE’, yet John states that the people are called upon 10 times to “REPENT”, Revelation 2:5, 16, 21, and 22;
Revelation 3:3 and 19;
Revelation 9:20 and 21;
Revelation 16:9 and 11.

Therefore, to whomsoever it might be applied, “When, and who ordained any government leader, on behalf of a minority lust group, to re-write God’s Laws”?
