

Hello

I am a vegan because i do not want to be an accessory to any cruelty towards animals.

However some of my family eat meat, and i do the shopping for them.

As a family who are concerned about animal welfare we would like to be assured that the products we buy are true to their labels,

So it is important to have strict standards, unambiguous labelling, and strong policing of products to ensure that families such as mine can be sure of what they are purchasing.

Sincerely

Lisa Burns
